

Petra Blinnikka M.Sc. (Econ), BHM works as a project manager in JAMK University of Applied Sciences in Jyväskylä (Finland). She has been working within rural tourism development during the last five years and in tourism development and education last nine years.

Last couple of years she has especially been involved in sustainability in rural tourism context.